Copilot
Eliza Chapman Gadd was a remarkable woman whose life story is intertwined with the history of the Willie Handcart Company, a group of Mormon pioneers who made a harrowing journey to the Salt Lake Valley in 1856. Here's a brief overview of her life and journey:

- Early Life: Eliza Chapman was born on March 13, 1815, in Croydon, Cambridgeshire, England. She worked in a hat factory and also practiced nursing skills, which she later used extensively in Utah as a midwife.
- Marriage and Family: She married Samuel Gadd on April 13, 1836, in Croydon. Together, they had at least six sons and three daughters.
- Journey with the Willie Handcart Company: In 1856, Eliza, an unbelieving and unbaptized spouse of an ardent believer, embarked on a journey with the Willie Handcart Company from England to the Salt Lake Valley. Despite not sharing the religious beliefs of the majority of the company, she faced the hardships of the trail alongside her family.
- Tragedy and Loss: During the journey, Eliza suffered the loss of her husband Samuel and two of their children. The family endured severe trials, and their story is one of perseverance and survival against the odds.
- Life in Utah: After arriving in Utah on November 9, 1856, Eliza asked to be baptized a week later and remained a faithful member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for the rest of her life.

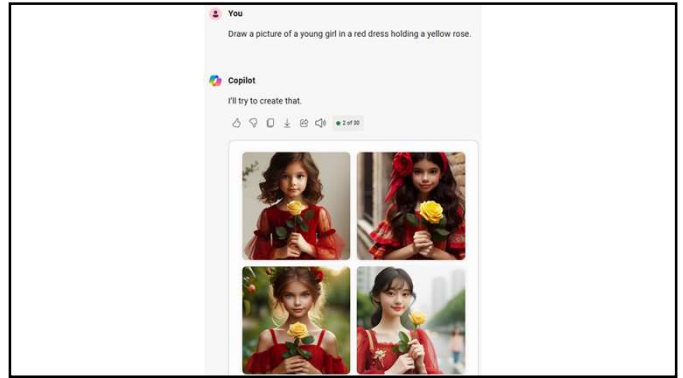

Eliza Chapman Gadd's story is a testament to her strength and resilience in the face of unimaginable challenges. Her legacy continues to inspire many who learn about her life and the sacrifices she made.
